*425. CHAUDHARY CHUNNI LAL: Will the PRIME MINISTER be pleased to state:

(a) whether a new "Pradhan Mantri Gramodaya Yojana" has been launched recently;

(b) if so, the salient features thereof;

(c) the criteria fixed for disbursement of funds to the States under the Scheme; and

(d) the allocation made during the current year State-wise and the results achieved during the last three months?

THE MINISTER OF STATE IN THE MINISTRY OF PLANNING AND MINISTER OF STATE OF MINISTRY OF STATISTICS AND PROGRAMME IMPLEMENTATION AND MINISTER OF STATE IN THE DEPARTMENT OF ADMINISTRATIVE REFORMS AND PUBLIC GRIEVANCES OF THE MINISTRY OF PERSONNEL, PUBLIC GRIEVANCES AND PENSIONS AND MINISTER OF STATE OF THE DEPARTMENT OF DISINVESTMENT (SHRI ARUN SHOURIE): (a) Yes, Sir.

(b) In order to achieve the objective of sustainable human development at the village level, Pradhan Mantri Gramodaya Yojana (PMGY) has been launched in the Annual Plan 2000-01 in all the States and UTs.

PMGY envisages allocation of Additional Central Assistance (ACA) to the States and UTs for selected basic minimum services. The allocation for PMGY in the current year is Rs. 5000 crore. PMGY has two components, namely, rural roads and other programmes of PMGY. While the rural roads programme has been allocated Rs. 2500 crore, the other Programmes of PMGY have also been allocated an equal amount of Rs. 2500 crore. The rural roads component of the PMGY is being coordinated by the Department of Rural Development. For the other sectoral programmes of PMGY, the concerned Central Administrative Departments of Elementary Education and Literacy, Family Welfare, Drinking Water, Rural Development and Women and Child Development are responsible for coordination and supervision. These Departments have issued guidelines for implementation of their sectoral programmes by the State Governments under PMGY. As per the guidelines, a minimum of 15 per cent of the ACA allocation of a State must be allocated to each of the five sectors under other programmes of PMGY. While 75 per cent of the ACA allocation of a State will be spent on the five sectors, the allocation of the residual 25 per cent of the ACA will be decided by the States and UTs themselves as per their own priorities.

While the other programmes of PMGY would also be monitored by these Central Departments, the overall monitoring of the PMGY would be undertaken by the Planning Commission.

(c) In so far as Special Category States are concerned, approximately 30 per cent of the total allocation under the other programmes of PMGY has been kept aside and distributed among these States on the basis of their proportionate share as worked out for the devolution of the normal Central Assistance.

The relative gaps in the basic services infrastructure/indicator among the States have been taken as the criteria for disbursement of the remaining 70 per cent of funds among the Non-Special Category States under PMGY. The four sectors which have been taken to calculate a State-specific composite weighted average index are Drinking Water, Primary Health, Primary Education and Shelter. Each of the four sectors has been given equal weightage. As per this criteria, the States which rank low stand to gain by a relatively higher allocation of ACA for PMGY.

The allocation for the rural roads component of PMGY is yet to be finalised by the Department of Rural Development.

(d) The State-wise allocation of ACA made for the current year for the other programmes of PMGY is given in the Statement. The first six monthly instalments of ACA for all the five sectors to all States and UTs have been released during June-July, 2000.
